

FOX VALLEY MODELS HO SCALE PULLMAN-STANDARD DINER, NORFOLK & WESTERN/POWHATAN ARROW

The Powhatan Arrow was Norfolk & Western Railway's premier train between Norfolk, Virginia, and Cincinnati, Ohio. Introduced in 1946, it received streamlined cars in 1949 before undergoing significant alterations in 1958, including the addition of mail cars and the replacement of observation cars with diner-lounges. By 1969, declining passenger numbers led to the Powhatan Arrow's discontinuation, but its legacy endures through preserved Class J Steam Locomotive 611 at the Virginia Museum of Transportation.

The Fox Valley Models™ HO Scale N&W Powhatan Arrow Passenger Car accurately replicates the prototype's streamlined consist from the early 1950s and pairs perfectly with our HO Scale N&W J Class 4-8-4 Steam Locomotive model.
